

Professor Dr Camilla Schalin-Jääntti Division of Endocrinology
Department of Medicine
University of Helsinki

Camilla was born in Helsinki on 13 June 1964. She spent her childhood in Helsinki and after the matriculation examination started studying medicine at the University of Helsinki. She graduated in 1990 and started thereafter preparing her doctoral dissertation under the guidance of Professor Leif Groop. She also started her training in internal medicine and endocrinology at Helsinki University Hospital.

She is currently working as Vice Chair of the Department of Endocrinology at Helsinki University Hospital. Her clinical and scientific activities in endocrinology are broad and active. She has been a dedicated educator of Finnish doctors in many meetings in endocrinology and is the author of several Finnish endocrine and medical textbooks. She has also served for many years in the board of the Finnish Endocrine Society and was the President of the Society in 2013-2015. In this role, she was also engaged in the ECAS meetings of ESE.