

Dr. Serkan Yener is a professor of Internal Medicine, Division of Endocrinology in Dokuz Eylul University, Turkey. He received his medical degree in Ege University, Izmir. Dr. Yener completed internal medicine residency and endocrinology fellowship at the University of Dokuz Eylul.

Dr. Yener has successfully completed European Endocrinology Board Examination in 2018 and also maintain Turkish Endocrinology and Internal Medicine board certifications.

Dr. Yener's work has included the endocrinology of incidentally discovered adrenal tumours, the clinical consequences of mild hypercortisolism and the diagnosis and management of autonomous cortisol production. He has also been working on clinical and genetic aspects of primary bilateral macronodular adrenal hyperplasia.