

Aart Jan (AJ) van der Lely is Head of the Division of Endocrinology and Professor of Endocrinology at the Erasmus University MC in Rotterdam, The Netherlands. He also is Vice Head of the Dept. of Internal Medicine of the Erasmus University MC. Dr. Van der Lely serves- or served on the editorial boards of Current Opinion in Endocrine and Metabolic Research, Clinical Endocrinology (Oxford), the Journal of Endocrinological Investigation, Clinical Interventions in Aging, Journal of Clinical Endocrinology and Metabolism, Endocrinology and Nature Reviews in Endocrinology. He is past-president of the Dutch Endocrine Society and past-secretary of the Section of Endocrinology of the European Union of Medical Specialists (UEMS). He served on the board of the International Society of Endocrinology. He was member of the Global Task Force of the Endocrine Society of the USA. He served as Treasurer and later as President of the European Society of Endocrinology. He is the first President of the European Hormone Society.

Currently he is the President of the Pituitary Society. He is also honorary member of the European Society of Endocrinology. He is scientific advisor of Amolyt Pharma in Lyon. He is nonexecutive director on the board of Bioscientifica Ltd. His main research areas are pituitary diseases and the study of the role of gut hormones in health and disease.